HONOR TO THE DEAD.

Secretary Hay Eulogizes the Late President McKinley.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE IN THE HOUSE.

President Roosevelt, Prince Henry, Foreign Ambassadors and Official Washington Present—Incidents of the Occasion.

Washington, Feb. 27.—At noon in the great hall of the house of representatives, in the presence of President Roosevelt, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the German emperor, the members of the cabinet, the justices of the supreme court, the general of the army and officers of the army and navy, who have received the thanks of congress, the ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives in congress and a large number of distinguished guests, the Hon. John Hay, McKinley's premier, pronounced an eulogy upon his dead chief. Four times before, national memorial services for presidents who have died in office have been held in this hall, two of them like this, in commemoration of chief magistrates who have fallen by the hand of assassins. George Bancroft, the historian, pronounced the eulogy on Lincoln, and Blaine was Garfield's orator. It was eminently fitting that the last public ceremonial of sorrow for the lamented McKinley should take place in the forum which had echoed his voice in the arena where he won his spurs. By a strange coincidence the day was the 20th anniversary of that on which the peerless Blaine in the same hall delivered his eulogy upon the martyred Garfield, and stranger still the subject of the day's memorial was the chairman of the committee that had charge of the arrangements on that occasion. Who then could have dreamed that man who escorted the then president of the United States and the orator of the day to their places was destined to be honored like Garfield, with the highest place in the gift of his country, was to meet his sad fate and was himself to be the next martyred president above whose open grave the nation would bow its head? Only one little year ago, less five days, at the head of an imposing civic and military procession McKinley passed triumphantly along Pennsylvania avenue for his second inaugural. Six months later, the tragedy occurred at Buffalo and another but different sort of procession tenderly bore his body through the streets to the rotunda of the capitol, where the brief funeral oration was delivered over his coffin and the tributes of the nations of the earth about his bier bespoke the universal sorrow.

The only pageant was the clattering troop of cavalry escorting Prince Henry and his party to the capitol and carriages here and there conveying officers in uniform or diplomats in court costume to the place where the eulogy was to be delivered. That was the extent of the outward spectacle. In the area in front of the speaker's rostrum heavy leather-upholstered fauteuils had been placed for the accommodation of the president, Prince Henry, the cabinet, the general of the army and justices of the supreme court.

Secretary of State Hay, at the outset of his eulogy, said that the stupid uselessness of such an infamy as the assassination of a president affronted the common sense of the world. In well-ordered republic like ours the ruler may fall, but the state feels no tremor. The life of William McKinley was from his birth to his death typically American. McKinley was neither rich nor poor, neither proud nor humble. He was wholesome, honest and self-respecting. At the age of 17, William McKinley heard the summons of his country. He left the army with field rank when the civil war ended, brevetted by President Lincoln for gallantry in battle. When he put down his sword he betook himself to his books. He was a whole-some ambition, and he had faith in his country and its institutions. For fourteen years McKinley served in congress, was twice elected governor of Ohio and twice chosen chief magistrate of the nation. McKinley never embarrassed his friends and never offended his opponents. He has justly been called the "Augmenter of the State." Under his administration has come to us Hawaii, Tutuila, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The state is augmented, but no nation is threatened. The possibility of those regions coming under our flag being damaged by such a change of circumstances was in the view of McKinley a thing unthinkable.

Secretary Hay reviewed President

McKinley's part in the suppression of the Chinese troubles, his stand for the open door in the Orient, the commercial prosperity of the country, the late president's appeal for reciprocity made in his last public utterance at Buffalo, and concluded: "There is not one of us but feels prouder of his native land because the august figure of Washington presided over its beginnings; no one but vows it a tender love because Lincoln poured out his blood for it; no one but must feel his devotion for his country renewed and kindled when he remembers how McKinley loved, revered, and served it, showed in his life how a citizen should live, and in his last hour taught us how a gentleman could die."

DETERMINED

Was the Attempt of the Boers to Rush the British Outpost.

London, Feb. 27.—The attack made by the Boers to rush the outpost line near Bothasberg, Transvaal colony, during the night of Feb. 23, reported in General Kitchener's dispatch, was most determined. The Boers were led by two well known fighters, Ross Hands and Mania Botha. When the Boers realized that their attempt to actually break through the wire fences was frustrated, they crouched beside the cattle killed by the British fire, and with which the ground was thickly strewn, and from that defense poured a heavy fire on the British troops. The fusillade was steadily returned, and finally the Boers were driven back, leaving 15 dead and six wounded on the field. They also left 170 dead or wounded horses and the entire herd of 6,000 head of cattle.

Rosebery Repudiated.

London, Feb. 27.—The Liberal Unionists, at the annual meeting of the Liberal Unionist council, definitely repudiated any desire to enroll themselves under Lord Rosebery's banner. The Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council, who presided, declared Lord Rosebery had done great service in disassociating himself from the pro-Boer element, but the speaker wanted to see how the Liberal Imperialist party could offer any inducements to the Unionists. The country was not disposed to follow the flag of statesmen who had looked on while these new guides of the Liberal party had led it deeper and deeper into the mire.

A Revengeful Lad.

New York, Feb. 27.—Revenge for reprimands given to Leonard Robinson, 14, of Blue Point, L. I., incited the boy to plan to kill John F. Danes' daughter, Jessie, 15. He had dug a grave in which to bury her. Leonard told several other boys and a girl his intentions and when the school teacher confronted him he confessed. Mr. Danes, fearing for the life of his daughter, caused the arraignment of the Robinson boy before a justice. The latter issued a warrant for the lad's arrest on a charge of threatened murder and the lad was held.

Secretary Shaw Spoke.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Leslie M. Shaw, the new secretary of the treasury, was in the city to attend the annual banquet of the National Business Men's league in the Auditorium, where he made his maiden speech since entering President Roosevelt's cabinet. On this occasion he discussed commerce and industries of the west. In an interview he spoke with considerable enthusiasm considering the visit of Prince Henry of Prussia and expressed the belief that it would go far toward cementing the friendship of the two countries.

Danger Past.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—All further danger from the freshet in the Schuylkill river in this vicinity is past. Since high tide the water has been steadily receding and the stream is practically free from ice. The river swept over the railroad tracks on the west bank and extended some distance inland. The water failed to reach the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad on the east bank of the river, though it rose to within a short distance of the rails and the station.

Fatal Freight Wreck.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 27.—Two fast Pittsburg and Western freight trains collided half a mile east of Girard, O., resulting in the death of two men, the fatal injury of two and less serious injuries to two others. The dead: Engineer Raymond A. Anties of Elmwood City, Pa.; Brakeman Coffey of Akron, O. Fatally hurt: Frank Harding, Newcastle Junction, Pa.; Conductor William H. Noss.

Will Not Visit Canada.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—There is no foundation for the statement cabled to the United States from London by a news agency that Prince Henry of Prussia will visit Canada before returning to Germany.

BEAL LOCAL OPTION.

An Effort to Be Made to Remedy the Defects in the Bill.

TO BE ATTEMPTED IN THE SENATE.

Color Line Aired When the Hays Bill Was Put Upon Its Passage—Measures in the Ohio Legislature.

Columbus, O., Feb. 27.—There was a lull in the house of representatives following the excitement attending the passage of the Beal and Willis bills. As soon as the clerk had completed the journal Mr. Denune, the suspended member from Franklin, was given the floor to explain his action in refusing to vote on the Beal bill. Mr. Denune said he had promised a minister to refuse to vote on any amendments to the Beal bill, and his action was simply the keeping of his word. A motion by Mr. Allen, Fulton county, to restore him to the roll call was carried unanimously.

After the passage of the local option bill and when the members of the house began to go over the battle as the smoke cleared away, the first thing which met their eyes was the Meisel amendment, which provides a fine for the first offense of selling liquor on Sunday, and for the second offense a maximum fine of $200 and imprisonment or both, but there is no minimum. There is nothing to prevent a liberal police judge from fining an offending saloonist 2 cents and remitting the costs if he chooses to do so.

Another point which the friends of the Beal bill are regretting is that they conceded the change in the required percentage for a petition from 25 to 40 per cent of the total number of votes in any municipality. This, the friends of the measure themselves say, precludes the possibility of getting a local option election in any of the large cities. Of course in the smaller towns and villages the local option law is strengthened, and they are claiming that much of the victory. There will be an effort in a quiet way to remedy the bill before it is passed in the senate.

The widely-discussed Willis tax bill is half a law, as it was passed by the house after but little discussion.

Other bills passed in the house were as follows: To permit domestic fire insurance companies to loan money upon the value of real estate as improved, instead of the value unimproved as at present. The loan must be made upon a 50 per cent basis; to increase the salary of the judge of common pleas of the Fourth judicial district residing in Erie county, by providing for the payment of $1,000 by the county.

Mr. Fisher of Medina county introduced the two-cent fare bill providing for a straight two-cent fare except in cases where cash fare is paid from stations where there are agents in which case the fare to be charged is two and one-half cents per mile. The bill also prohibits the traffic in excursion tickets, as no tickets can be used except by the person purchasing the ticket.

In the Senate.

The senate passed the Frazer house bill relative to the value of lands when considered for the purpose of making a loan. The limit of valuation is fixed at 50 per cent on both the land and the improvements thereto instead of the mere value of the unimproved realty. Senator Longworth's bill making it an offense to steal electricity through the tapping of wires was also passed.

The senate by a strict party vote of 16 to 11 tabled Senator Decker's resolution for an investigation of the office of the clerk of the supreme court during the past 10 years.

Bills passed by the senate: Providing that when corporations dissolve notice of the dissolution must be filed with the secretary of state; extending to all cities the provisions of the law giving workhouse trustees the right to parole prisoners; requiring that all parties to a suit, those who are made parties defendant after the filing of the suit, as well as those named in the original petition, shall be indexed; providing that suits may be brought against corporations in any county in which they own property or owe debts.

The senate committee on privileges and elections decided Thursday morning by a unanimous vote to decide the Taylor-Hurst contest in favor of Hurst, the sitting member from Tuscarawas county, and representing the joint Eighteenth-Nineteenth district. Mr. Taylor alleged irregularities in Holmes county, but failed to submit any testimony in support of charges. The senate adopted Mr. Hosen's joint resolution providing for a joint session of the two houses on March 17 to hear arguments pro and con on the proposition to abandon the canals of the state.

END OF A SPREE.

Pittsburg Man Kills a Woman and Destroys Himself.

Pittsburg, Feb. 27.—W. E. Rinard shot and killed Margaret Lambert and then killed himself. The woman was shot through the heart and Rinard then put two bullets into his brain. He had been drinking hard for several days and it is supposed was temporarily insane. May Weyman, who, it is said, presided over the house, and a colored servant girl, were the only persons in the house at the time of the tragedy. Margaret Lambert, the dead woman, was from London, England. Rinard was connected with the Carnegie Steel company as a timekeeper.

Confessed Man's Confession.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—Amos Stirling, a young negro who was the accomplice of Henry Ivory and Charles Perry in the murder of Professor Roy Wilson White of the law department of the University of Pennsylvania on the night of May 19, 1900, was hanged in the county prison. Stirling made a confession to his spiritual adviser, claiming the sole responsibility for the murder of Professor White. He said he did not know either Perry or Ivory and asserted that neither of them was with him when the crime was committed. His statement is not credited by the police authorities.

French Cruiser at Cuba.

Santiago, Cuba, Feb. 27.—The French first class protected cruiser Tago, of 36 guns, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, with Admiral Servan and 26 officers and 360 men on board, arrived here. General Whitside, the commander of the department of the East, and the admiral exchanged calls and the French officers visited points of historical interest. Admiral Servan does not know how long he will stay here, or what his next point of destination will be, as he is awaiting cable order to that effect.

Should Be More Teachers.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Governor Taft continued his statement before the insular committee of the house. He said there should be 1,000 more American teachers in the island. In explaining the question of the friar lands, Governor Taft said it would be desirable for congress to guarantee the bonds to be issued for the purchase of these lands, as it would secure a low rate of interest. The hearing will be continued.

Crew Afflicted With Scurvy.

Port Angeles, Wash., Feb. 27.—The French bark Los Adelphes, 162 days from Madagascar, bound for Portland, Or., against which there is reinsurance of 20 per cent, arrived here with almost every man of the crew down with scurvy. For the last 25 days they had been subsisting on but one biscuit per day to each man, and were for some time without fresh water except rainwater. The cook, F. L. Fletche, died of ague and exposure, and was buried at sea.

Turkey and Miss Stone.

Constantinople, Feb. 27.—It is understood that the United States will soon take steps to obtain reimbursement of the sum of $72,500 paid to brigands as a ransom for Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme Tsilka, holding Turkey responsible, inasmuch as the capture of the missionaries were effected on Turkish soil. This question of responsibility may have serious developments, since Turkey emphatically disclaims responsibility and lays the blame on Bulgaria.

Dangerous Blaze.

Boston, Feb. 27.—Fire in the upper part of the Bowdoin Square hotel threw 150 guests, mostly actors filling engagements at nearby playhouses, into confusion, but all escaped safely. The flames were confined to upper stories of the building, but the total loss, which is placed at about $5,000, is shared by the occupants of the stores on the street floor, who suffered from smoke and water.

Linemen Strike.

New York, Feb. 27.—The linemen in the employ of the New York Telephone company in the borough of Manhattan and the Bronx refused to go to work. The men demand an eight hour day in all parts of the city and an increase in wages from $15 to $16 per week. An official of the company said that the letter of the complaining linemen had been submitted to the officers of the company.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 27.—Superintendent J. C. Crandall of the United States Indian school has received word from two precincts in northern Taos county that 40 children had died there the past few days of diphtheria.

TILLMAN'S TELEGRAM

It May Result in the President's Not Attending the Charleston Show.

NO RESPONSE LIKELY TO BE MADE.

Message of the Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina and His Comment Thereon—Another Unpleasant Incident.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Although the White House officials are now non-committal on the subject, there is reason to believe that no response whatever is likely to be made to the letter of Lieutenant Governor Tillman of South Carolina to the president requesting him to withdraw his acceptance of the invitation to present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins at Charleston. It is believed that this incident will result in President Roosevelt not attending the Charleston exposition.

Lieutenant Governor Tillman's telegram to President Roosevelt was as follows:

"A short while ago I had the honor to address your excellency a letter requesting that on the occasion of your visit to Charlestown you present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins of the First United States Volunteer cavalry, of whose gallant services you spoke so highly, your words being engraved upon the scabbard. You accepted the invitation, for which we thank you. I am now requested by contributors to the sword fund to ask that you withdraw said acceptance."

In explaining the sending of the telegram Lieutenant Governor Tillman said: "It is with much regret that I was directed, or rather required, to send the telegram I did, especially in view of the fact that I am so closely related to one who, but a few days ago, was subjected to an affront which was seemingly, or at least the people who contributed to the purchase of the sword think, unwarranted."

Will Have No Effect.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 27.—It is stated here that Lieutenant Governor Tillman's action in withdrawing the invitation to President Roosevelt to present the sword to Major Jenkins, will have no effect on the exposition program for the president's entertainment, even if it is allowed to stand.

From New York to the Capital.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The special train carrying Prince Henry of Prussia, his suite and the American escort made its second trip from New York to Washington on schedule time. It left Jersey City at 1:30 o'clock Thursday morning and at 9 o'clock rolled into the Pennsylvania depot here. There was no delay in the flooded districts of New Jersey, but the train was slowed down whenever there was a possibility of danger. Admiral Evans, honorary to Prince Henry, was indisposed and when the party left the train at Washington it was with the intention of resting until the southern and western trip commences. The prince was met at the depot by Assistant Secretary of State Pierce and Count Quadt of the German embassy and escorted by cavalry and police, was driven to the embassy.

British to Boer Leaders.

London, Feb. 27.—The colonial secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, made an interesting statement in the house of commons to the effect that the proclamation providing for the banishment of the Boer leaders did not preclude Lord Kitchener or Lord Milner from accepting the surrender of Boer leaders on modified conditions. Lord Kitchener on his own authority had already accepted the surrender of some of the minor leaders on the understanding that the provision of the banishment proclamation would not be enforced.

Lawyer Preferred Death.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—To avoid going to jail, Ernest Wedekind, a lawyer, indicted on a charge of embezzlement of $4,700, shot and mortally wounded himself soon after arrest. He was taken to the Alexian brothers' hospital where he died without regaining consciousness. Wedekind was under arrest and while officers were at lunch he stepped into a side room and shot himself.

Presidential Appointments.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate: Postmasters—West Virginia—Richard A. Hall, Weston; James E. Hall, Wheeling. Indiana—Scott Cole, Huntington. Kentucky—Benjamin W. Hall, Mt. Sterling. Ohio—Hugh L. Barnhill, Wellston. Tennessee—George T. Taylor, Union City; Harry Swaney, Gallatin.

THIS is how Bourke Cochran sizes it up: "Republicans are in politics for themselves, Democrats for their country; Republicans profess principles to gain power, Democrats seek power to enforce principles."

It needn't be surprising if it develops that Senator Tillman knew what he was talking about, when that rumpus occurred in the Senate. The South Carolinian may be a little too rough, but he's generally right.

THE House Democratic caucus at Frankfort, by a vote of 32 to 21, has decided to switch Grant County from the Sixth to the Ninth Congressional district. This settles it as far as the House is concerned, but Judge Westover is on the ground and says he will fight the bill when it reaches the Senate.

THE BOOK RING'S GRAFT.

A writer in a Chicago paper in speaking of the school book ring calls attention to the fact that when it came to establishing a school system in the Philippines this ring stepped in and virtually took charge of the system and its appointees. The head of the system was dictated by the ring, says the Georgetown News-Democrat, and this accomplished, he looked after the underlings in the interest of those who had secured his appointment. Governor Taft testified before Congress that the Filipinos cannot read English and only a very few of the children are able to understand or speak the simplest English. Yet no important position could be filled in the schools there against the wishes of certain publishing houses; the Commissioner owed his position to them and he was driven to pay back his obligations by such purchases as these for children that can neither speak nor read English (see report of the war department, part 2, for the year ending June 30, 1901): Ten thousand "Baldwin's Third Reader," 3,000 academic dictionaries, 20,000 geographical readers, 35,000 "Frye's Elementary Geography" (said to be the most difficult series published), 25,000 "Montgomery's Grammar School History," 5,000 "Myer's General History" (for high schools), 20,000 "Mother Tongue" (said to be very technical grammars), 10,000 "Tarbell's Geographies," 8,000 dozen (96,000) copy books of the upper numbers, 20,900 "Heart of Oak" classics, upper numbers. And out of 549,000 books purchased four Boston and three New York firms, all in the Publishers' League, get the entire order. Philadelphia and Chicago, not being in with the trust, are left out entirely.

WHAT THEY SAY.

Comments of Visiting Editors on Maysville's Third Annual Tobacco and Corn Fair.

[Dover News.]

The third annual tobacco fair held at Maysville was a success in every particular. The crowd was there, the tobacco was there, Gov. Beckham was there, John Duley was there, the warehousemen and dealers from all over the county were there, and it was the most intelligent assembly taken as a whole. Lack of space compels us to omit an account of the many attractions for the entertainment of visitors. The exercises at the opera house were of a high character, entertaining and instructive, breathing a spirit that speaks well for the development of Kentucky and especially the tobacco industry of the burley district.

Hechinger & Co., Maysville, report the next to the largest one day's sale in the history of the house on the occasion of the tobacco fair.

Clever John Duley was the whole push at the fair, and received more deserved compliments than any other man there.

Our own Judge Newell's welcoming speech was one of the neatest pieces of oratory and sound sense that was "spoke."

[Lexington Democrat.]

Gov. Beckham made an eminently sensible speech to the tobacco men at Maysville, which was highly appreciated and greatly complimented. The Governor seems to have the happy faculty of talking well on all subjects and to be a man of affairs generally. By the way, the eighteen samples of cigarette tobacco filler on exhibition at the fair brought $1.01 a pound, and other samples brought 25 cents to 31 cents. Record prices all around.

Useful Information.....

Housekeepers are often annoyed by stains on table linen. As a souvenir of this linen sale we present them with the following dependable list of "first aid to the injured." For peach stains use a weak solution of chloride of lime. Linens must soak for a long time. This is necessary and important. For fresh tea or coffee stains use boiling water poured on the spots over some vessel. Hold the hot water at a height sufficient to secure force while pouring. In old stains soak in cold water before boiling. Grass stains can be removed by using cream of tartar and water or alcohol, which never stains the most delicate fabric. For mildew use lemon juice and expose to the sun. If old, dissolve one tablespoonful of chloride of lime in four quarts of cold water, and soak the fabric till the mildew disappears. Rinse thoroughly to avoid any chemical action on the linen.

For wine stains sprinkle with salt, moisten with hot water and pour boiling water through until the stains disappear.

For blood stains use cold water first, then soap and water. Do not use hot water, as it sets the stains.

For fruit stains use boiling water. If they do not yield use oxalic acid, allowing three ounces of the crystal to one pint of water. Wet the stained linen with the solution and place it over a kettle of hot water or in the sunshine. Rinse well as soon as the stains disappear; wet with ammonia to counteract the acid. Then rinse thoroughly again. This operation will save the linen, which would otherwise be injured.

Since then the Central Oil and Gas Company's second well came in.

DEATH OF MRS. PILLSBURY.

A Native of Maysville Passes Away at Bowling Green, Ky.

A dispatch from Bowling Green brings news of the death of Mrs. Zerelda Pillsbury. The end came at her home in that city this week, her death resulting from blood-poisoning, caused by injuries received in accidentally falling six weeks ago.

Mrs. Pillsbury was born in Maysville, and was eighty-three years of age. She was a sister of Mrs. G. A. Berry of West Second street, and leaves many other relatives in this city and county. The press dispatch announcing her death states that she was one of the best known educators in the State. She conducted a school at Bowling Green for many years.

A Great Bandmaster.

Much that is strange and interesting can be said in regard to Innes, the great bandmaster, who will have his band here the afternoon of Wednesday, March 5th. A strong factor in the success of his concerts at the Pan-American Exposition was the novel effect produced by him in spectacular scenes from grand operas, rendered by well-known operatic singers. The playing of Kryn, the young cornetist phenomenon, a recent discovery of Innes, who is said to play with such tremendous force and brilliancy as to eclipse the several great players who have preceded him upon this popular instrument, is said to have aided largely in making Innes's seashore and exposition seasons remarkable successes.

Ghosts would frighten many people who are not afraid of germs. Yet the germ is a real danger. If this microscopic animalism could be magnified to a size in proportion to its deadliness it would show like a giant python, or fire-breathing dragon. The one fact to remember is that the germ is powerless to harm the body when the blood is pure. It is far easier to keep the germ out than to drive it out after it obtains a hold in the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the most powerful and perfect of blood purifying medicines. It increases the quantity as well as the quality of the blood, and enables the body to resist disease, or to throw it off if disease has obtained a footing in some weak organ. Wherever the digestion is impaired, the nutrition of the body is diminished, for the blood is made from the food which is eaten, and half digested food cannot supply the body with blood in quantity and quality adequate to its needs. For this condition there is no remedy equal to "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred persons who give it a fair trial. When there is constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will promptly relieve and permanently cure.
